Annual Meeting Of Beet Growers

The annual meeting of the Southern Alberta Beet growers Association was held at the Second Ward Church last Friday ,with a good crowd in attendance.

Mr. Arthur Dahl of Raymond was re- elected president of the association with Will Wilde of Raymond vice president and I. B. Roberts secretary.

A number of excellent addresses were given relative to beet growing. Mr. T. George Wood spoke on the "Present Sugar Situation," Mr. A. E. Palmer of the Lethbridge Dominion Experimental farm, talked on "Beet Tonnage," and Mr. W. H. Snelson in, "Economic Irrigation Practice as it Relates to Sugar Beets." The latter lecture was illustraed with lantern slides and brought out very vividly the problems relating to irrigation.

The representatives of the Lethbridge Northern district announced their intentions of signing up for 2,000 acres of beets for 1929. This even exceedes the expectations of the local sugar factory officials.

The general feeling at the meeting leade one to believe that next year will be a banner year for thie new industry.

For the first time in history, an airplane has been carrying furs from the wilds of Northern Manitoba to the Winnipeg market. Hollick Kenyon, aviator, left Cranberry Portage for Brochet settlement recently, taking Del Symonds, veteran trader, whose aim was to beat all competitors who take a month to travel by dog team.

During 1928 between 5,000 and 6,700 Prince Edward Island foxes have been shipped abroad, an increase over the 4,280 shipped the preceding year. These have been handled without a single known casualty. Since the middle of October foxes have been shipped to Norway, Sweden, Scotland, Germany, Czecho Slovakia, Bavaria, Finland, France, Holland, Switzerland and Japan.

Forty-two years of service with the Canadian Pacific Railway without having broken any of the company's rules or otherwise earned a mark against himself is the unique record held by Arthur W. Savage, engineer, who has just retired on pension. Mr. Savage, who is well known throughout the Eastern Townships, fired the train that laid the first steel on the line between Sherbrooks and Farnham.

The old English Yuletide Festival held recently at the Empress Hotel in Victoria, B.C., proved to be one of the most popular events of last year. Carols and yuletide music were rendered, the ancient "Chester Mysteries" staged, and Dickens' "Mrs. Wordls's Christmas Party" was produced. The festival culminated in a ball at which some seven hundred persons attended. It is believed that plans are already being made for a larger and beiter celebration next year.

A change in telephone numbers has drawn attention to the train inquiry office in the great Windsor Street Station of the Canadian Pacific Railway in Monireal. The girls who are on duty there handle each on an average of 200 calls an hour, and as many as 300 an hour during rush times. They carry most of the information in their heads and seldom have to refer to a time-table. They are asked queer questions sometimes. Recently someone asksd, "When does the afternoon begin," and the old poser turned up, "What time does the four o'clock train leave."

Dr. Knechtsl, a farmer residing about four miles east of Souris, Manitoba, has about 6,000 bushels of Reward wheat which he is going to ship out all over Western Canada in two-bushel lots, as soon as the list of addresses arrivse from Ottawe—for the project is under the supervision of the Dominion Government. As is pretty generally known, Reword wheat matures about a week earlier than Marquis and, for this reason, can be grown further north. This early ripening means, roughly, that a new strip of country 75 by 1,000 miles, is made available for wheat growing.

Grading Of Wheat

A condition of unfair grading of wheat seems to exist according to recent reports from Magrath, and other districts. Mr. Ririe of Magrath sent three identical samples of wheat to be graded, one to Winnepeg, one to Medicine Hat, and one to Calgary The sample graded at Winnepeg graded No. 1 at Medicine Hat, No 2, and at Calgary No. 3. Surly there is something wrong somewhere or such a condition could not exist. Are methods used in grading accurate? Are the men in whose hands thousands of dollars are intrusted careful in their judgment? Are the farmers going to sit idly by and not protest such unfairness?

No. In future years the farmer will be in a position to demand fair treatment in the marketing of his products, the very lifes blood of the country.

Farmers are no longer an antique human apcies of the moron type, unable to do anyhing but follow the plow. They are a highly specilised group of men upon whose shouldrs rests the responsibility of feeding the world.

The avrage farmer is a trained mechanic, he must know how to operate and maintain his tractor. If it suddenly stops in the field he must know how to locate the trouble and remedy same. If a bearing burns out he must be able to replac it. If the binder refuses to tie the bundle he must change the knotter and adjust same until it does tie.

The average farmer is a blacksmith and maintains a small shop on the farm. He is able to sharpen and temper his plow shares, he is able to weld the broken rod and keep the implement running in the field.

The average farmer is a business man. He must watch the prices of his produce and aim to sell at the highest possible price. He must know costs of operations and balance same with the fall returnes. He must be able to forsee the probable gain in net returns if he invests so much money in new machinery.

The average farmer is an employer of men. He must be able to handle them with the dexterity of a tight rope walker if he makes a success financially.

The farmer of today has his pleasure car to take his family on long trips to the cool mountains. They motor to church and other social activities. They see the best entertainments in the country. Long winter evenings are spent by the fireside listening to the best music that can be secured, comming from all parts of the continent, over the radio.

Is the farmer comming to his own? We believe that he is, and such situations as unfair grading of the farmers products will be met and justice demanded.

WATERTOWN, Mass.,Jan. 14—"Babe" Ruth, home run king of baseball, mourned the loss of his wife, Mrs. Georgo Herman Ruth, while sought for questioning Dr. Edward H. Kinder, Boston dentist, in whose home here Mrs. Ruth, known to neigh bors for the past year and a half as Mrs. Helen Kinder, was burned to death last Friday night.

From his hotel suite Ruth gave a brief statement to newspapermen and then refused to be intrviewed. The statement said: "My wife and I have not lived togather for the last three yars. During that time I have seldom met her. I have done all that I can to comply with her wishes and her death to me is a great shock, that is all I can say now."

Can a girl do anything about an unattractive knee?

Nothing but grin and bare it.

Dick: "You remember Miss Jones, don't you?"

Dave: "I don't recal her face, but her knees are very familiar."

Junior Hockey

With the recent drop in the mercury and the consequent good ice the organization of a junior Hocky league has been effected in the public school. It is comprised of four teams as follows:"The Flying Romeo's", Captained by Waldo Tollestrup, " The Red Devils" Captained by Howard Melchin "The Rangers," Captained hy John Zobell, The Shooting Stars," Captained by Alwyn Stone. In spite of the fact that these youths, all under fourteen, have been handicapped by the lack of a place to play, until the last two years they are good, and being of the age that learns quickly they promise much in the near future.

They will provide a sport well worth watching. Hocky is a fast clean sport and if fostered by the general puhlic will provide an amusement of much benefit to the young people of the town. Two teams have been organized in the high school, which togather with the town team and the team from the School of Agriculture a hocky league of older people may be organized. The rink management are talking "ice carnival" something new in Raymond, and with a little support this idea will materlize. If a hocky cup was provided it would do much to encourage this sport.

Last Saturday evening the Aggie hocky team defeaed the town team by the score of 2- 0. Considsring the condition of the ice the game was clean and fast. The Aggies lined up as follows: goal- T. C. McBeh, defence-A. Kmper and W. Smith, forwards- A. Melchen, H. Willis, Dean McMullen, and H. Evanson.

Attsnion Ex-Students and friends, do not forgt the Athletic dance to he held at the Scool of Agriculture on Friday evning January 25.

Last Friday evening he Aggie basket ball team were hosts to Magrath in the local H. S. Gym. Magrath emerged victorious by a rather one sided scene and their victory was well merited. The Magrath boys demonstrated that they were a fine clean basket ball team and it is a real pleasure, when we have to be defeated to be defated by such a team. On the other hand our own boys show the lack of proper handling and after the loss of Peterson, Evanson and Russel, Magrath had things pretty much their own way.

A volley ball league has been organized consisting of four teams up to the present with the possibilities of the en cring of the fifth. The teams are as follows: Th Sugar Factory Staff, The High School staff, The Cubs,(under Mr. Milt Strong) and The Aggies Staff. The first league games will day evening at seven o'clock. The day evening at seven o'cock. The Cubs play two games against the High School staff and the Sugar Factory staff two gamees against the Aggies Staff.

Extensive preparations are now under way for the athletic dance to be held at the School on Friday January 25. This dance will he all that it's name implies, for the decorations and the novelties dipict an athletic scene. Even the ———,but we hope to keep that as a surprise for the students, and their friends.

Travelling School's Promising Trio

More good than a row of medals pinned on them is the value three young lads from the backwoods of Ontario will derive from a wonderful week spent in Toronto. These three boys are: Rene Thibault, aged 14 years, French-Canadian from Ramsay; George Kingston, a little 6-year-old Indian of Wye, and John Paul Paquette, French-Canadian of [illegible], aged 16 years. They are ardent pupils of the Canadian Pacific Railway travelling school car, and are up betimes each morning to attend the school on wheels the week it spends in each month on a siding in their section of the North. Their teacher, Mr. McNally, chose three boys to spend a week in Toronto and the Canadian National Exhibition, as guests of Premier Ferguson, the boys of the entrance class of the Normal School, and the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Bewildered by all he saw young George Kingston scarcely spoke, although he is learning English rapidly, and even the smallest thing he saw brought a shy smile. He had never been upstairs until he boarded the train that brought him to the city, and the largest body of people he had seen together at one time was 30. He was intensely interested in mirrors and elevators and his pockets were stuffed with a collection of mechanical toys. He has not yet mustered up enough courage to talk on a telephone and when he saw a parade of cadets in their bright red tunics it was difficult to hold him back. The two older boys were most interested in aeroplanes and the animals they saw at the exhibition.

More than 20,000 acres of Indian lands, which includs some of the best agricultural areas in the Peace River district, are likely to be sold at auction in the near future. This action will in all probability follow a survey that is being made in the north country by W. Morrison, inspector of Indian Agencies for the three westsrn provinces, with headquarters at Regina.

A new industry—badger farming—may be started in Saskatchewan by John Rothenberger, farmer, of Vanguard. Last spring Mr. Rothenberger caught a badger and four pups. He built a large pen, about 15 feet long and 4 feet wide. During summer he fed the badgers until they are now quite lame, and are said to be larger than any badger running wild. Their coats are in excellent condition and offers of $18 for each skin have been received.

A new world record was set by the Canadian Pacific Railway recently when a train of grain more than a mile in length was operated between Stoughton and Arcola, in Saskatchewan. It was the longest and heaviest grain train in history, consisting of 135 loaded grain cars, each approximately 40 feet in length, a watsr car, a cahoose and engine. The gross weight was 8,722 tons and the total contents of the cars were 202,000 bushels of grain.

The enthusiasm of the citizens of Quebec is so infectious that it is an easy matter to intsrest visitors in winter sports, stated J. G. Strathdee, winter sports manager of the Chateau Frontenac, in giving a forecast of this winter's programme. Skating, skiing and tobogganing will be in full swing as usual; the dog derby will most certainly take place; and the ice carnivals and storming of the citadel will probably be featured again he said. Mr. Strathdee mentioned the splendid co-operation given the winter activities at the Chateau Frontenac hy the Quebec Winter Sports Association.

The number of disciples of Isaac Walton, Canadian and American, who have plied rod and reel in Canadian waters during the past season is greater than ever before, states A. O. Phillip Peierman of Laurium, Michigan, won the Nipigon River contest for speckled trout. Edmund Siechbart of Chicago won the French River "muskey" prize, and Theodore Kipp of Winnipeg caught the largest bass entered in the Devlin Gap camp competition.

England will have enough Canadian apples shortly to keep the doctor away for the next year, if there is any truth in the proverb as ships sailing for the old country this autumn are carrying many boxes of souvenir apples shipped by Canadians to their friends overseas. This has been the custom for the past few years and according to J. B. Martin, manager of the foreign department of the Canadian Pacific Express Company, it is becoming increasingly popular. So great has been the demand for fresh Canadian apples each autumn for shipment to England that grocers throughout the country now have stands and boxes for shipping and special rates are granted by the express company.

About Ourselves

Scanning the pages of a little farm machinery magazine the other day, the attention of the writer of this column was drawn to a short article headed "About Ourselves," and, like everybody else, being interested in himself, he proceeded to read it. It appealed to him as so human, so absolutely true, so worth-while, that he decided to pass it on to the readers of this paper and thus give still wider circulation to a message which all would do well to heed. Here is the article:

"We all want the things that we think will make us happy. We want to own things, to know about things, to go places, to do things, to work out ideas, to win the esteem and respect and affection of folks.

The bigger our wants, the more chances we have of being worth while. The person who cares for nothing amounts to nothing. We begin wanting the day we are born. When we quit wanting, we'll be dead. If we don't want anything, we are hopeless.

If we don't think about our wants, we let little desires crowd out the really big, worth while desires. "I didn't think," is the excuse most often given for acting foolishly, recklessly, dangerously, selfishly. Unnecessary accidents and needless griefs follow. Thinking clears the way for restful action. If we don't think, we are reckless and selfish.

In order to make our feelings and thoughts count, we must do something. The more times we get good thoughts backed by strong feelings and do nothing, the worse off we are. Doing things tests our thinking and our feeling—enables us to do clearer thinking and work out happier things the next time. If we won't work, we are helpless.

A slight change in attitude may make a great change in life; the light of a new idea may point the way to the successful working out of a problem; even when things seem wrong and we can't see clearly, starting to do something may clear the way.

What we feel, what we think, and what we do make us what we are."

That's the message. Read it over again. Then, once again, read the last lines: "What we feel, what we think, and what we do, we are."

Now read the first sentence again: "We all want the things that we think will make us happy."'

This article is about ourselves. It is a sort of heart to heart talk, a kind of personal stock-taking at the beginning of a new year. So, let us ask ourselves some pointed questions.

Granted we want to be happy, were we ever happy while thinking mean, uncharitable thoughts about somebody else? Rather, have not our happier moods been those when kindly thoughts of others occupied our minds?

We will find happiness in the esteem, respect and affection of others. There are few of us but desire to be popular. But can we command these things, or do we deserve them, if, on our part, we are entertaining feelings of contempt and hatred for those around us?

We find joy in doing things, but can we expect to accomplish much if we are arrogant in our attitude towards others, if we insist upon always having our own way, if we are intolerant of the views and opinions and convictions of those with whom we are called upon to work?

A person who is always suspicious of others soon becomes the object of general suspicion. Thinking mean thoughts, cultivating uncharitable feelings, doing unworthy things, may or may not hurt those against whom they are directed, but they most assuredly do hurt the one who indulges in them. They affect his or her whole character. Persisted in they will even leave their indelible mark upon the countenance with the result that the ugly inner life will be like an open book that all others may read—and shun.

The happiness so much desired is not to be found that way; rather it is the death of all happiness.

Remember: "What we feel, what we think, and what we do we are."

Gave Service Gratuitously

Colorado Doctor Labored For 25 Years Making No Charge For Medical Attention

Dr. B. A. Arbogast, the "hermit physician," of the rough, mountainous country west of Craig, Colorado, died of poverty recently, after a career devoted solely to gratuitous service of his fellow men.

For 25 years Dr. Arbogast has been the physician in a rugged cattle country, which embraced 100 square miles surrounding the little cabin where he lived alone. He ministered to the ills and hurts of cowboys, homesteaders, cattlemen—and made no charge for his services.

Forty new school districts were established in Alberta in the first nine months of 1928—making a grand total of about 3,500 in the province.

Progress In Aviation

Over 300 Airplanes Now Operating In Canada

On January 1, 1929, there were 333 aeroplanes in operation, or more than three times the total a year ago, according to a survey of Canada made by the bureau of statistics.

There are at present 44 air harbors in Canada, as compared with 25 last year. Licenses held by commercial pilots at the first of the year numbered 190, nearly five times the number on the comparative date. Activity in the north has been largely responsible for the rapid progress in aviation.

An indication of the interest which has been aroused in Canada of the plight of the British unemployed, particularly the miners and their families, is given by the response to a fund for their relief, opened by a Toronto newspaper. INFLUENZA'S VICTIMS

Left Weak, Miserable and a Prey To Disease In Many Forms

One of the most treacherous diseases afflicting the people of Canada during the winter months is influenza. It almost invariably ends with a complication of troubles. Its victims suffer with alternate fevers and chills, headaches and backaches. It leaves them an easy prey to bronchitis and pneumonia. Indeed, the dendly after effects of influenza may leave the victim a chronic invalid. You can avoid influenza entirely by keeping the blood rich and red by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. If you have not done this and the disease attacks you, you can banish its deadly after effects through the use of this great blood-building, nerve-restoring tonic.

Here is proof of the power of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills over this trouble. Mr. F. H. McMullen, Belleville, Ont., says:—"Some years ago, following a severe attack of influenza, I was left in such a weak condition that my friends thought I would not get better. I developed nervous indigestion, and my blood got thin and watery. In this weakened condition I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and these did what other medicine had failed to do—brought me back to health and strength. I can honestly say I think them the best blood builder and nerve tonic known, and I shall always praise them."

You can get the pills from your druggist, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Unique Method Of Testing Farm Seeds

Virginia Department Of Agriculture Controls Temperature Of Artificial Spring

A method of simulating spring artificially in a modern version of the old family ice box was described at New York before the Association of Official Seed Analysts.

It is used for testing the germination of farm seeds at the Virginia Department of Agriculture, and irrigation, Richmond. By a specially prepared chamber and an artifical refrigerator, controlled temperatures are obtained over test seeds planted in special soil boxes.

Even the breezes of spring, so far as they are useful to the fields of farmers, are preserved through the action of cold water running through the apparatus and providing the air purification that takes place in open fields.

Spring's sunshine is reproduced in effect through an electric heater, its emanations being distributed from beneath a covering of water.

Dr. F. G. Banting is now experimenting with "royal jelly," the food which the bees feed to develop the queen bee. It is worth trying to find out just what it is composed of.

Baron Munchausen Never Told These

Inquiring Guests Add To Wonders Of Jasper Park

"The Equator," said the youngster, writing his examinations, "is a menagerie lion running around the earth." Schoolboy howlers are always rich in humor. But the howlers are not always made by schoolboys.

Last summer a lady came up to the transportation desk in Jasper Park Lodge to inquire about the motor trip to Mount Edith Cavell and the Angel Glacier. She was very anxious to miss nothing of the wonders of the mountains. "When," she asked, "does the Glacier spout?"

Then there was the lady who thought that the Lodge would be very pretty when it was finished, when the walls were plastered and kalsomined. That the great peeled logs, well chinked and cunningly fitted together, were meant to be as they were, never entered her consciousness. She knew nothing of the beauty of mountain architecture.

The prize, however, goes to the lady who was discussing the wild life of the park with one of the wardens. "The goats and the sheep are the same species, are they not?" she asked innocently. "Which are the nanies?"

"Oh, the goats, madam" said the warden, without batting an eyelash.

The Family Physician.—The good doctor is always worth his fee. But it is not always possible to get a doctor just when you want him. In such cases, common sense suggests the use of reliable home remedies, such as Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which is wonderfully effective in easing inflammatory pains and healing cuts, scratches, bruises and sprains. The presence of this remedy in the family medicine chest saves many a fee.

Last Year's Final Payment To B.C. Sheepmen Totalled $53,000

Between 500 and 600 sheepmen throughout British Columbia received a worth-while Christmas present a week before the festive season when the final payment was made on the 1928 wool clip by the British Columbia Wool Growers' Association. This final payment represented a total of $53,000. The total amount paid out for the year's clip was $109,587, payment being made at 31.88 cents per pound, as compared with 24.9 cents last year, an increase of 28 per cent. The 1928 wool shipments by the provincial association to the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers' Ltd., at Weston, Ont., were 343,749 lbs., as compared with 205,500 lbs. in 1927, when the total amount paid out was only $51,179.

Scarcity Of Seed Oats

Alberta Farmers Are Advised To Arrange For Necessary Supply Early In Season

Farmers throughout the province of Alberta are being advised by the provincial department of agriculture to make the necessary provision for securing the supply of oats for seed which they will require for their 1929 crop. The effects of frost in a number of districts are reflected in a reduction in the germinating quality of a great many of the oats threshed and in a number of cases, supplies of oats suitable for seed will have to be shipped in. Elevator companies have expressed their willingness to assist in the distribution of good seed, and farmers are advised to communicate with their local elevator agents as early as possible in order to obviate the possibility of a scarcity occurring during the seeding season.

Miller's Worm Powders attack worms in the stomach and intestines at once, and no worm can come in contact with them and live. They also correct the unhealthy conditions in the digestive organs that invite and encourage worms, setting up reactions that are most beneficial to the growth of the child. They have attested their power in hundreds of cases and at all times are thoroughly trustworthy.

It is said sharks do not attack humans. Then as far as we are concerned, there will be no fight.

Reading Good Books

Means Getting Acquainted With People Best Worth Knowing

To read good books—and by good books I mean books that will give you pleasure in the reading, stimulate thought, and help you to understand the world and humanity better than you did before you read them— to read such books is to mix with people whose thoughts and actions have led mankind down the ages. The whole world of reality, the dream world of romance—both are yours for the taking, if you will only cultivate a taste for reading. To read good books is to understand yourself better, to realize your responsibilities as a member of human society more completely through a better understanding of your fellow men. None of us, I suspect, ever attains the end of wisdom, which is to know yourself completely. But the pursuit of that end is about the only pursuit that gives humanity a genuinely and permanently interesting run for its money.

Don't Submit To Asthma. If you suffer without hope of breaking the chains which bind you do not put off another day the purchase of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Remedy. A trial will drive away all doubt as to its efficiency. The sure relief that comes will convince you more than anything that can be written. When help is so sure, why suffer? This matchless remedy is sold by dealers everywhere.

More Beets Needed

The total production of sugar beets in Alberta for 1928, was 37,000 tons, while the capacity for the Raymond factory was 100,000 tons. The sugar company guaranteed to expand as fast as the production of beets warrants. At a meeting of growers at Barnwell, the main problem considered was the means of raising the acreage now signed up of some 5,000 acres.

WINDOLITE The Improved Glass Substitute

MADE IN ENGLAND

COMES WITH A MESSAGE OF HEALTH

THE sun is the all-powerful life producer, Nature's universal disinfectant and germ destroyer, as well as stimulant and tonic. WINDOLITE is the sun's most important ally.

Medical research has definitely proved that from the point of view of Health and Hygiene, the most effective among the sun's rays are the Ultra-Violet rays, which possess the greatest power for the prevention and cure of disease and debility.

Science has further established that ordinary window glass does not allow the passage of Ultra-Violet rays, so that by using glass we are artificially excluding these vital health-giving rays. Therefore, the invention of WINDOLITE has completely satisfied the long-felt want. Exhaustive experiments have conclusively proved that it is a most effective substitute for glass, that it freely admits the Ultra-Violet rays, and that its use has a most beneficial effect on the growth and development of plants and chickens and on the well-being of cattle, enabled for the first time to have healthy light instead of darkness in their sheds.

Indeed, the discovery of WINDOLITE has during the last six years completely revolutionized gardening, given a new stimulus to poultry breeding, increasing the egg-laying capacity and fertility of chickens, has greatly improved the health of cattle and is now being used in domestic and household requirements.

WINDOLITE stands for 100 per cent. sunlight. It makes light but strong windows for cattle sheds, dairy stables, poultry houses, brooders and all out buildings. It is economical, unbreakable, flexible and is easy to cut and fit. It is now being successfully used for sunrooms, verandahs, schools, factories, hospitals, sanitariums, hot beds, plant coverings and greenhouses. It keeps out cold—will not crack or chip,—cuts with an ordinary pair of scissors and is easy to fit. WINDOLITE is supplied in rolls any length but in one width of 36 inches only. A square yard of WINDOLITE weighs about 14 ozs., while a square yard of glass of ordinary thickness, weighs about 135 to 140 ozs. The improved WINDOLITE requires no varnish. WINDOLITE is made in England.

THE PARABLE OF THE OX AND THE MULE

Down in Missouri a farmer had an ox and he mule that he hitched to the plow. One night, after several daya of continuoxs plowing, and after the ox and mule had been stabled for the night, the ox said to the mule: "Partner we've ben working pretty hard lately, let's play off sick, tomorrow and lie here in the barn all day." Said the mule, "You can if you want to, but I'll work."

Next morning when the farmer came out the ox pretended he was sick The farmer bedded him down with clean straw, gave him a fresh feed of hay, a big feed of oats and bran, and left him for the day.

That night when the mule came in the ox ask him how he made out plowing alone all day.

"Well," said the mule, "it was hard and we didn't get much done."

"Did the old man have anyhing to say about me?" ask the ox.

"No," replied the mule.

"Well then," went on the ox, "I believe I'll play off sick again tomorrow; it was certainy fine lying here all day.

"That's up to you," said the mue, "but I'll go out and plow."

The next day the ox played off again and the farmer treated him as he did the day before. When the mule came in at night the ox asked him how they made out.

"About the same as yesterday," replied the mule coldly.

"Did the old man have anything to say about me?" again inquired the ox.

"No," replied the mule, "not to me but he did have a long talk with the butcher on the way home."

Portraying the role of a German American, his exact status, Emil Jennings gives another of his remarkable characterizations in his latest Paramount picture, "Sins of the Fathers," which comes to the Capitol theater Tonight and Saturday.

Jannings, in a statement made to news paper men recently, had the following to say abou his newest role:

"I believed that in The Way of All Flesh, I had reached my peak as far as character work was concerned, and thought that I would never again be able to portray a role with such ardor, but when engaged in the making 'Sins of the Fathers' I was conscious that here was a role that the American people would appreciate, a role portraying a man that every American knows about. I believe the American public will consider it my best to date."

Jannings was born in Brookiyn, N. Y. but moved at an early age with his parents to Germany. He won fame that spread over the entire Continent, and reversed the popular order of things by coming back to America already a star in his own country.

Jannings has an exceptional supporting cast in "Sins of the Fathers." Ruhe Chatterton, the stage star, has the role opposite him Others in the cast are Barry Norton, ZaSu Pitts, Matthew Betz and Harry Gording. Ludwig Berger, the celebrated European director, handled the direction of he film, his second American directed picture.

HOME AND FARM FERTILE PLACE FOR FATAL ACCIDENTS

Did you ever look around your home and farm and note how many preventable causes of accidents are threatening the well being and even the lives of those who are near and dear to you?

Perhaps many of those things are are so familiar to you that you would not notice them anyway, and perhaps it never struck you that your home and its surroundings may be even more dangerous than the traffic-crowded streets of a big city.

A revelation of the common dangers of the home and its surroundings is contained in a remarkable booklet entitled "Farm Hazards" a free copy of which can be obtained by any one on application to the local branch of the Bank of Montreal. This booklet, which records the fact that about one in four of the fatal accidents to awaken the people of the rural districts of Canada to the distressing prevalence of preventable accidents at home, and to show how easily most of these accidents can be prevented.

Though it is full of good advise, it is not necessary to read the booklet to discover how amazingly fertile the average home and farm is in the things that make for accidents. The whole story as to how accidents happen and how they can be prevented is given in actual photographs, over 300 of which are reproduced. There is also a chapter on first aid remedies, telling exactly what to do when anyone gets hurt.

Safety organizations have done in the cause of accident prevention in the cities, but hitherto little has been done in the cause of accident prevention on the farms and in the country homes.

The Bank of Montreal by issuing this booklet is doing its part to supply the deficiency. Get a copy. It is free, and may save life or limb in your own family

Canadians Are Meat Eaters

Per Capita Consumption Exceeded By Only Three Other Countries

In cattle holdings Canada ranks twelfth among the countries of the world. There are eight countries with more swine than Canada and apparently twenty with more sheep and lambs. The Dominion is exceeded in meat consumption only by Argentina, New Zealand and Australia, the per capita consumption of these countries being respectively 346.5 lbs., 311.6 lbs., and 227.2 lbs., against Canada's 156.3 lbs. Following come the United Kingdom, 127.2 lbs., France, 115.0 lbs., Germany, 104.2 lbs., Denmark, 100.9 lbs., and Belgium 71.1 lbs. Canada's per capita meat consumption is made up of 68.8 lbs. of beef, having increased to this from 60.9 lbs. in 1910; 81.4 lbs. of pork against 66.7 lbs. in 1910; 6.1 lbs. of mutton and lamb, as compared with 8.7 lbs. in 1910; the total of 156.3 lbs. comparing with 136.3 lbs. in the former year.

Anxious To Protect Canadian Fishermen

Regulations Aim To Prevent U.S. Fishermen Selling In Canadian Ports

Possible International conference regarding the fishing treaty between Canada and the United States may come as a direct result of the allegation made by Oregon and Washington fishermen of treaty violations on the part of the Dominion on the Pacific Coast which have been forwarded from Seattle to Washington, D.C., and to Canadian Government officials.

The department of Marine and Fisheries has issued the following statement: "There is no desire on the part of Canadian authorities to restrict in any way the privileges of which U.S. salmon trolling boats are entitled in Canadian ports, but when these boats are carrying on their fishing just outside Canadian water or along the Canadian coast they are not being allowed to use such ports for purpose of comfort and convenience and so make them in a large measure for practical purposes bases from which to operate. Seizures were made only when such action appeared necessary to impress the above fact and seizures were not made until after the boats concerned had received notification that Canadian ports might be used only for bona fide shelter or other treaty purposes."

At the present time U.S. ports charge a two cent duty on every pound of Canadian fish sold through them. The object of the Canadian regulations is to prevent United States fishermen selling their fish in Canadian ports and thus gaining an adavnntage of the Canadian fishermen.

Patrol Of Royal Mounted

Order Maintained Throughout Great Regions Of North-West Territories

The city or suburban policeman who is inclined to grumble about the size of the territory he has to patrol, should be given a glimpse of the area which has to be covered by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. To them is given the task of maintaining law and order and administering relief among the scattered settlements in the great regions of the North-West Territories, stretching in a belt 2,000 miles wide from Baffin Island in the east to the Mackenzie River delta in the west. Posts are established along the Arctic coast from which patrols and investigations are undertaken each year by the officers stationed there. Two years is the normal span of duty for a constable in these territories, but not infrequently the call of the Arctic is so irresistible that the members of the force return for duty again and again.

Newspaper Suffers Loss By Fire

Plant Of The Turtleford Recorder Is Prey To Flames

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the post office and newspaper plant at Turtleford, Sask., recently. The building and printing plant were owned by C. R. McIntosh, M.P., and were covered by insurance. Post office fixtures, owned by A. Vinge, postmaster and editor of the "Turtleford Record," were also insured Owing to strenuous efforts on the part of volunteer fire fighters the blaze was kept from spreading. No fire had been made in the building on the day of the outbreak, according to Mr. Vinge.

Regularity Is Essential

Live stock thrives best when fed and watered regularly. There is a strong temptation to lie in on the cold mornings or to do the chores earlier than usual when the days are short and dull. Irregularities in the handling of live stock do not favor greatest thriftiness or production. For best results "chores" should be done by the clock.

Radio school lessons may soon be in vogue in some of the secondary schools in Canada. The Department of Education is said to be considering this innovation.

Proves Laborious Task

Editor Of Oxford Dictionary Searching For Definitions Of New Words

So many new words have been coined in the past four decades, that thirty pages of the New Oxford Dictionary are necessary to record only those beginning with the letter "A." This was revealed by Dr. O. T. Onions, who is editing the new supplement to the dictionary.

It was not only such obvious additions as automobile and airplane that are giving the dictionary staff a laborious task. The new words, according to Dr. Onion, include a "multitude of common colloquialisms, technicalities that have become public currency, and labels, discoveries, inventions, names of exotic plants, garments, terms of sport and of the new psychology.

There are, for instance, auto-suggestion, auto-piano, auto-erotism, autogiro, accent in art, to put or get it across, apperception, the all-red line, apache, adenoids, aspidistra, acrobatic, alpha rays, drug addict, airpath, airworthy, Anglo-phobiac and accelerometer."

In the original Oxford Dictionary, published in 1888, "adenoid" was included but only as an adjective signifying glandlike. "Aspidistra" is a plant long known in old-fashioned English homes, but it never before achieved a place in a dictionary. On the other hand some words used in 1888 have since become obsolete. The older meaning of "airplane" was a plane or wing, while animatograph," meaning moving picture, is now dead as a doornail.

Dr. Onions is still searching for adequate definitions, quotations and exact references for many words. Musical terms which puzzle him are atonality and attack.

He thinks he ought to include the word "agin" as in "agin the government," and also the shopplug term "on approval." There is a further possibility that the new dictionary may sanction "allright" as one word because of its universal usage.

"Truly," comments the Manchester Guardian editorially, our dictionary makers are toilers at a sysyphen task. Just as soon as they have "Z" neatly caged an enlarged and adipose "A" has broken loose at the other end of the menagerie."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

CHRIST THE SAVIOUR

Golden Text: "And thou shalt call His name Jesus; for it is He that shall save His people from their sins."—Matthew 1.21.

Lesson: Luke 2,11, 30-32; 15.3-7; John 3.14-17; 10.9-11, 14-16,27, 28; Acts 3.1-18; Romans 5.1-11; Philippians 2.5-11; 2 Timothy 1.9, 10.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 53.1-9.

Explanations and Comments

The Value Of a Repentant Sinner, Luke 15.3-7. To the Pharisees and scribes who criticized Jesus for receiving sinners and eating with them, Jesus said: "Is there a man among you who, if he possessed a hundred sheep and found one missing, would not leave the ninety-nine in the pasture lands and search for the lost sheep until he found it?"By the word translated "wilderness" is meant the uninhabited lands which were the pasture lands.

"The sheep may shiver with terror and cold when it no longer sees the flock, no longer hears the guiding voice of the shepherd, but it is only the shepherd who knows all that is involved in its position, only the shepherd knows the risks. We sometimes speak of man's infinite loss through sin, and I do not know that we can exaggerate it; but, after all, we do not realize it, even in a measure, until we view from the side of God the poverty and deformity of the Christless soul."—Thomas Stewart.

When the shepherd finds the lost sheep, he puts it across his shoulders (the easiest way in which to carry it), and returns rejoicing. So great is his joy that he must have others share it, and he calls together his friends and neighbors and bids them rejoice with him.

Grief can take care of itself, says Mark Twain, but to get the full value of a joy we must have some one with whom to divide it.

If you would be so careful and tender of one lost sheep, how much more careful and tender must the Good Shepherd be of the lost sheep of Israel? "I say unto you," said Jesus, "that even as in the case of this human shepherd there will be joy with God and His angels over one sinner that repents, more than over the ninety and nine righteous persons (such as the Pharisees regarded themselves, Luke 18.9), who (as they think) need no repentance." Dr. W. L. Watkinson points out three facts in this verse: (1) the significance of the individual—over over one sinner; (2) the importance of the individual lies in his moral life—one sinner; (3) the most important event in the individual life is the restoring of the lapsed soul to God—one sinner that repenteth.

Learned From Experience

The Sunday evening Bible Class had been enlarged to full strength, and two of the latest recruits were discussing Bible topics.

"I think this yarn about feedin' five thousand people on five loaves o' bread an' two fish is all bunk," declared Bill.

"It can be did, buddy, it can be did,' 'answered Henry.

"Aw, what's the matter with you? You goin' bugs on this Bible stuff?"

"Naw," replied Henry, "but I used to be a mess sergeant in France."

Man was made before woman to give him time to think of an answer to her first question.

Will Ensure Higher Grade Being Sent To Canneries

A thorough inspection of all fruit and vegetable products before preservation will be conducted in all canning plants of the Dominion, by inspectors of the fruit branch of the Federal Department of Agriculture. Through such service, Mr. McIntosh, fruit commissioner, believes both producer and consumer would profit and encourage the delivery of higher grade products to the canneries. Fifteen permanent inspectors transferred from the health of animal branch, will be augmented by the full inspection staff of the fruit branch in carrying out the inspection service throughout the Dominion.

Practically Safe

Murderers have almost a 100 per cent. chance of escaping the electric chair if they commit crimes in Pittsburgh, the annual report of the homicide squad shows. During the past year thirty-five alleged slayers in fifty-one crimes were apprehended, but not a single one has received capital punishment.

When your Children Cry for It

Castoria is a comfort when Baby is fretful. No sooner taken than the little one is at ease. If restless, a few drops soon bring contentment. No harm done, for Castoria is a baby remedy, meant for babies. Perfectly safe to give the youngest infant; you have the doctors' word for that! It is a vegetable product and you could use it every day. But it's in an emergency that Castoria means most. Some night when constipation must be relieved—or colic pains—or other suffering. Never be without it; some mothers keep an extra bottle, unopened, to make sure there will always be Castoria in the house. It is effective for older children, too; read the book that comes with it.

To Check Flu-Grip

Fight the Germs with Vapors Before They Can Get a Start

Treat All Colds Promptly But Be Careful Not to Disturb the Digestion With Too Much Dosing

While Flu is so prevalent everyone should take precautions to prevent its further spread. Flu is generally accompanied by a headache, burning eyeballs, and aching joints. But it begins so many times with just an ordinary cold.

Too often, the colds are neglected until they have lowered the vitality and permitted the lurking germs of influenza, or pneumonia to "get a foothold."

The only safe plan is to attack a cold at the very start. A hot bath, a laxative, and a vigorous application of Vicks VapoRub on the throat and chest at bedtime, will usually break up a cold overnight.

External Treatment Best

For hours after Vicks is applied, its ingredients, time tested remedies, such as camphor, menthol, eucalyptus, thyme and turpentine, are vaporized by the warmth of the body, and inhaled right to the inflamed air passages. At the same time, the ointment acts through the skin like an old-fashioned poultice, "drawing out" tightness and pain, and helping the vapors to break up the congestion.

Avoid Upsetting Stomach

This simple external treatment cannot disturb your digestion as too much "dosing" is so apt to do. This is doubly important when "flu" is around, for your stomach, as well as your respiratory organs, must be kept in good condition in order to keep your body resistance at its highest level.

For this reason, too, mothers prefer Vicks for children. It can be used freely and often, even on the youngest child, with no fear of upsetting a delicate stomach.

To Help Ward Off the Flu

When influenza colds are prevalent, you can often prevent infection by snuffing a little Vicks well up the nostrils every night and morning, or before exposure to crowds.

"Where's the bunk-house?" asked Blackie.

"We don't call them 'bunk-houses' any more, we have dormitories," corrected Gillis as he nudged Donald slyly.

"A what?" questioned the puzzled Blackie.

"Dormitories," repeated Gillis.

Blackie glowered at his boss. "What are you runnin', a ladies' seminary?" he questioned sarcastically.

"And another thing, you don't need your blankets. Company furnishes 'em," informed Gillis.

"Well, I'll tell you one thing right now," declared 'Crazy' Jack, "I ain't goin' to sleep in a pair of blankets that forty smelly bohunks has wrapped themselves in. What kind of a joint you brought us to, Jack?"

"What I want to tell you fellers," said Gillis, ignoring 'Crazy' Jack's remarks, "is this: I want you to stay all summer. None of this running to town to get your teeth fixed, or a new suit, see the ball game, or to meet your sister who's comin' out from the East, and all that old bunk. We got more orders——"

"Can that chatter," interrupted 'Fighting' Jack with a wide grin. "We're all goin' to town on Dominion Day, ain't we, boys?"

"You bet!" they roared as one.

Gillis shrugged his shoulders resignedly. "Thought you fellers was gettin' old enough to have a little sense," he said.

"Too much kick in us yet, Jack," demurred Blackie.

"Where is this door-mee-tory, Jack?" asked Hoop-la.

Gillis pointed to the long building, and the boisterous crowd moved noisily up the hill. The men dropped their packs to the ground outside the door, and, shouldering each other, peered in. The long rows of white beds stood immaculate against the walls, and two white-coated flunkeys were sweeping the glossy varnished floor.

"This ain't the right place," growled Hoop-la, "this is the hospital. They must expect to kill about a hundred men every day. Hi! Jack! Come here. Where's the bunk-room?" he asked as Gillis approached.

"That's it."

"That!"

"Sure."

"Say! what you givin' us? I wouldn't dare sit down on one of them beds; 'fraid of dirty'n it."

The others gathered round.

"Jack, can we put up a log shack for ourselves?" asked Blackie.

"You sure can," responded Gillis solemnly.

"All right, we'll sleep in this morgue 'till we get a decent place," said Blackie.

He poked his head in the door just as Andy, clad in white coat, entered by the rear.

"Say, nurse," shouted Blackie, "get ready for twenty-two cases of delirium tremens!"

"That's easy," was Andy's quick retort; "I've had more than that by myself." His eyebrows lifted in quick surprise as he saw the brilliant shirt.

"When does the blinkin' circus start?" he grinned.

That evening in their explorations Blackie and Hoop-la found the log shack on the lake-shore.

"Say, Jack, can me and Hoop-la have that cabin down there?"

"You be you can, Blackie. You and Hoop-la can have anythin' round here," replied Gillis heartily.

Blackie had turned to go, but on hearing this broad statement he stopped quickly. "Say, Jack, me and Hoop-la came away from Vancouver owin' a little mincy—an' I promised to send——"

"Ye've got me when the gittin' is good," interrupted Gillis. "How much do you want?"

"Let me see," reflected Blackie, "I owe for my room in town; and I owe at Old Joe's and—an——"

"How much? Spit it out. I can stand the shock," commanded Gillis.

"Bout a hundred, Jack."

"Whew! whistled Gillis as he reached for his purse.

With Donald's assistance the hundred dollars was found and Blackie ran joyously down the hill.

"Little Devil!" smiled Gillis as he gazed after him. "Good-hearted a feller as ever lived," he added feelingly, "but he can't take one drink without goin' crazy."

The "redshirts" had been up in the woods looking over the logging operations, and they now came swinging down the hill, their bright shirts flashing in the sun. They were loggers, "every inch of them," as Gillis said.

CHAPTER XII.

Andy's study of nature proved to be no idle whim, and Gillis had long since ceased teasing him. All his leisure moments were spent in scouring the hills and meadows for specimens, and regularly every Sunday afternoon he ascended the hill to Wainwright's cabin with his collection for the learned Englishman's inspection.

On this afternoon, Wainwright, being in one of his solitary moods, had wandered up the mountain, and Andy found Connie busily engaged in spading the earth in search of worms, which she tossed to the swarm of birds that hopped on the ground and filled the air about her.

Scolding the bold camp-robbers that ventured dangerously near the shovel blade, she scattered the soil then laughed joyously as the birds with a great flutter of wings pounced on the fat worms.

Andy threw himself luxuriously on the green sward. This beautiful spot was a diversion from the hot kitchen, a veritable haven of rest. The gentle murmur of the bees among the flowers, the soft, subdued twittering of the birds, the rustle of the leaves, and the laughing of the water, all combined to make one sweet monotone of sound that lulled him into drowsiness.

Connie sat down near him, the birds all about her.

"'Ow do you get them so tame, Connie?"

"They know that I love them," she replied simply.

"I can't get anything but the camp-robbers to come near me," said Andy.

"It takes time and patience, Andy. As soon as the birds are assured that you mean them no harm, they are eager to be your friends. You'll remember, Dad told you that without plants man could not live," she went on. "It is equally true that if all the birds should perish, man would soon follow. And, still more wonderful, if we had no insects man could not survive."

Andy came to a sitting posture. "Do you mean to s'y that we should die if we 'ad no insects?" he asked incredulously.

"Surely, Andy, you haven't forgotten what Dad told you last Sunday about insects carrying the pollen from flower to flower," reproved Connie.

"I 'ave it now!" cried Andy, after a few moments of reflection. "If we 'ad no insects to carry the pollen the plants couldn't live. And if the birds were all gone then'd be so many insects that they'd eat up every blinkin' thing the farmers raised, and we'd starve to death."

Connie nodded.

"Strike me 'andsome if ain't wonderful!" said Andy in an awed voice.

Connie explained very simply to Andy the benefits derived by mankind from the various birds. Her discourse proved so interesting to him that he paid little heed to the time until the sun, disappearing behind the trees, warned him that it was time to return to his duties. Regretfully he arose and turned to the trail. Connie walking by his side. A goldfinch, rich in his summer plumage of bright yellow, black and white, hung swaying like a dainty sprite on a slender stem near the path. From its bulging little throat came a rippling, bubbling song like a miniature torrent of ecstasy.

"Dear, dear, dearie," he called sweetly.

"Oh, you darling!" cried Connie as she clasped her hands in rapture. "I've been trying to find their nest for several days, Andy, but the little dears have hidden it too well."

She made soft clucking sounds as she moved nearer to the beautiful bird. The goldfinch fluttered close to her side to perch like a yellow flower on the top of a tall thistle, perked its pretty head and looked up at her with bright shining eyes.

"Dear, dear, dearie," it sang again then flew with characteristic wavy motion to a clump of willows, twittering sweetly as if calling Connie to follow.

"I 'ave to 'urry 'ome," said Andy as he looked at his watch. He glanced back at a turn in the trail to see Connie pressing the willows gently aside in her search for the goldfinch's nest.

"Strike me pluk! but she is a wonderful girl," soliloquized Andy. "The 'nudsomest and the brainiest kid I ever saw in me life. If I was thirty years younger, two feet 'igher, and 'arf decent to look at, I'd fall 'ead over 'eels in love with 'er."

He smiled broadly at these ridiculous reflections, but there was a tender light in his bright blue eyes. A swarthy foreign labourer, moving aimlessly up the trail, merely grunted in reply to Andy's cheerful salutation.

"One of Gillis's beloved bohunks," chuckled Andy.

A moment later he stopped suddenly. Connie was up there alone. For a short interval he hesitated, then resumed his downward journey. "She'd shoot 'is blinkin' 'ead off if 'e tried to 'arm 'er," he decided.

Just then he heard Connie's voice raised in a quick cry of anger. Andy jumped as though subjected to a galvanic shock. He turned in mid-air and before he struck the ground his short legs were going through the motion of running. The picture of Connie struggling in the arms of the burly foreigner made him fairly fly.

"I'm coming, Connie!" he shouted as he tore up the hill.

Donald and Gillis, sitting near the bluff enjoying a smoke came to their feet as they heard a faint shout from above. For an interval they listened intently, but hearing no further sound they resumed their seats. Andy slackened his pace as he came to the clearing and saw that Connie was unharmed. She was standing near the labourer with her head bowed over an object held in her hand.

"What's wrong, Connie?" panted Andy.

"Andy, look!" she choked, "it's the mother bird. I had just found her nest—here it is." She parted the bushes to disclose a compact, cosy, cup-like structure of fine grass and moss placed in a crotch of the tree. In the centre lay four downy fledglings whose tiny mouths gaped wide to receive the expected bit of food from the mother's bill. "Oh, Andy, if she dies the little ones won't live," said Connie in a voice filled with pity.

An American Knights Ramsay MacDonald

Labor Leader Is Dubbed "Sir Ramsay" At Jasper Park Lodge

If they come to hear of this in the Labor Party of Great Britain, there will be murmurings afresh in the left wing. It might even have a far-flung effect in the next general election. When Ramsay MacDonald was in Canada last summer he was knighted. Without sword or cushion, without kneeling in silken hose and breeches, but he was knighted. And by a citizen of the United States.

It happened when the former Prime Minister was a guest at Jasper Park Lodge. The man who brought him such distinction, a visitor from Cincinnati, was enjoying the rockies at the same time. He had a movie kodak with him and was having the fun of his life catching unsuspecting beaver, deer, bear, golfers and other denizens of the park. When Mr. MacDonald appeared with his four daughters, the heart of the man from Cincinnati leapt up. Here was bigger game. A scoop! When his friends gathered before the silver screens in their drawing rooms next winter and boasted of their summer's trophies he could afford to smile. And when he unwound his own reels they would all perish with envy.

The man from Cincinnati wangled an introduction. "Sir Ramsay," said he, diffidently but firmly, "Sir Ramsay, would you mind if I took a few movie shots of you?"

The deed was done. But the man was too engrossed to be aware of it. Mr. MacDonald did not palter nor offer repudiation. He merely smiled and protested that he was no sheik. "I don't want to bother you," said the amateur movie man. "If you and your daughters just step out of the Lodge and stroll from the path along the shore of Lac Beauvert, I'll get you as you go."

So was Ramsay MacDonald knighted and starred in the movies in one day.

Should Save Argument

S. Parker Gilbert, Agent-General of Reparations, says that Germany is able to pay to the full scale already fixed. That should save much argument at the coming conference.

Little Helps For This Week

"A friend loveth at all times, and a brother is born for adversity." — Proverbs xvii. 17.

Yet of the brother, who along our way,
Prone with his burden, heart-worn in the strife,
Totters before us,—how we search for his life,
Censure and sternly punish while we may.
Oh, weary are the paths of earth and hard
And living hearts alone are ours to guard;
At least begrudge not to the sore distraught
The reverent silence of our pitying thought.
Life, too, is sacred; and he best forgives,
Who says, "He errs," but tenderly "he lives."

—Mary Mapes Dodge

Do not keep the alabaster boxes of your love and tenderness sealed up till after your friends are dead. Fill their lives with sweetness. Speak kind, approving, cheering words while their ears can hear them, and while their hearts can be thrilled by them. The things you mean to say after they are gone, say before they go.

Bee Pollination Unnecessary

That bees are not actually necessary to the pollination of fruit trees is understood to be the important finding of a group of government experts whose report will shortly be delivered to Hon. W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture.

Letty: "She swears she has never been kissed by a man."

Lotty: "Well, isn't that enough to make any girl swear?"

DENTAL TALKS
by
Dr. H. Harcourt Heal

Perhaps you have a nervous dread of the hypodermic needle, and also shrink from having your tooth "frozen" prefering to take gas instsad or, again, a gneral anaesthetic may he essential and you are undecsided as to wheather you should take "gas" or Chloroform.

By "gas" we impiy a type of general anaesthetic the action of which is much quicker and less prolonged than that of chlorform or ether.

There are various typs of gas vig; Somnoform, Ethyichloride, or nitrus oxide. These anaesthetics are preferahle to Choloroform or Ether where a general anaesthetic is required for a short operation, as will be seen from the following facts:

The action of gas is fairly rapid the normal period of induction being one minute and fourty eeconde, at which time unconsciousness should be induced. The duration of the anaesthesia may be prolonged or shortened as required, by means of the control.

The period of recovery is brief, it being brought about by chutting off the flow, when the paient is quickly restored to consciousness. Vary rarely does the patient exhihit eymptoms of nausea or prolonged muscular weakness following the recovery There is no depressing action upon the heart, a slight stimulaion being the only effect.

The hest time for administration of a gas anaesthetic is in the morning or early afternoon, when one is fresh and rested. No general anaesthetic should be given within from two to three hours of eating; hence the meal prior to the time of operation should be omitted.

As with other general anaesthetic agents, the best results are ohtained with those who approach in proper atude of mind, with tears allayed and fully confident that in no way will they be subjected to any unpleasant sensations.

With extractions, one marked advantage of a general anaesthetic over a local agent, le that where the general anesthetic is employed there is a freer hemorrhage in the tooth socket consequently the risk of infection subsequent to the operation le much less, and the liability of after soreness le very much reduced.

When the tooth is badly abscessed it le extreamly dangerous to "freeze" the gum as general hlood poisoning may result. In euch cases "gas" becomes a Godsend. The tooth may be removed with absolutly no pain to the patient and drainage established far more effectively that when local anaesthesia is employed.
